A black and white photograph of a five-arm chandelier. The chandelier has a central black body with five curved arms extending outwards. Each arm holds a white, conical lampshade. The chandelier is suspended from a ceiling by a chain of dark links. The background shows a light-colored wall with faint, arched window frames.
